

Talent Unlimited presents
A Charity Concert & Networking Reception

For the benefit of Royal Marsden Cancer Charity & Talent Unlimited

Songs from the Classics

Thursday 10th March 2011 at 19.00 hrs
St James's Church, 197 Piccadilly, London W1J 9LL

Ticket price: Adults £15 | Students £8 Concert & Reception: £30

Kim Sheehan, Soprano

Clare Presland, Mezzo

Keith Beresford, Piano

Leslie MacLeod-Miller
Bass-baritone

Christopher Stokes, Piano

Victoria Barnes, Violin

Nicole Stokes, Violin

Louise Hawker, Viola

Joanne Keithley, Cello

Talent Unlimited presents a Unique Concert:

Songs from the Classics

A Programme of Fine Music by the Great Composers

Two sopranos, a bass-baritone, a string quartet and two pianists will perform some of the finest instrumental music composed in the 17th to the 20th centuries, as transcribed into songs, both classical and contemporary. Some of the pieces will also be played as originally composed, giving the opportunity to appreciate both forms. The composers represented include Bach, Chopin, Dvorak, Borodin, Mascagni and others. The Chopin will include rarely heard transcriptions of some of his piano works made during his lifetime by his friend Pauline Viardot (mezzo soprano). It is reported that he not only approved of these transcriptions but accompanied Viardot in the performance of them.

A minimum of 50% of the proceeds will be donated to The Royal Marsden Cancer Charity (Registered Charity No. 1095197) which is raising money to help The Royal Marsden provide world class care for cancer patients and to support the hospital's pioneering work in cancer research.

A contribution will also be made to Talent Unlimited (Registered No. 1139220) for the continuing musical education of talented music students at famous music colleges in London.

